OAK CREEK

South Routt School District Superintendent Kelly Reed announced his resignation Thursday night. It is effective June 30.

The South Routt School Board accepted Reed's resignation after an executive session in the district offices behind Soroco High School. Reed, 56, said he has accepted a position as principal of Redlands Middle School in Grand Junction.

Reed

The school is part of Mesa County Valley School District 51, which has more than 40 schools and a total enrollment of more than 21,000 students.

"I've got mixed emotions, but it's a good personal and professional move for me," Reed said Friday, adding that his wife's mother and sister live in the Grand Junction area.

Reed acknowledged his departure leaves the South Routt School Board with a short amount of time to find a new superintendent for the 2008-09 school year, but he said he could not pass up the new job with an increased salary and a much larger school district.

"The position that I'm taking was not opened until recently. I didn't even know about it until three weeks ago. I was offered
